Big Rig Racing Board #1: How can I earn more silverware? There are several ways to earn silver: - Winning SR races. There are three levels of difficulty. Tighter levels give more rewards.- Full Daily Calls.- Take daily rewards every day.- Open free boxes. In future updates there will be more ways to earn SilverYou need fuel for the race. You can find fuel in the top left corner of the screen. Every time you race you use at least 1 Bar.It will recharge slowly over time. If you need more fuel faster you can push the fuel bar and choose one of the options to fill the Tank.If you have over 10 fuel it will be turned to existing fuel, only with different colors. ProgressTiers share the history of the game and the team you race against. You start with T1 where you race first team. Other teams make up Levels 2-4.2. TrucksTier refers to the restrictions imposed on each truck. Right next to the name of your truck you can see that it is a level. For example, T2. That's the level of your truck. The truck level is fixed and cannot be changed. You can see different trucks with different levels in the Shop.You can only use trucks in the level they are rated. For example, the T4 Truck can be used in T4 races. Although there are exceptions. In SR racing you can race using a truck of any level slot parts to provide an extra boost to your power truck. Each truck has a certain number of slots inside its Upgrades.The number of slots determined by the stars of your truck and Tier.Slot parts are divided into rarity, manufacturer and part upgrade type. You can find all your slot pieces inside Inventory.To get there to tap the inventory icon in the main menu. It is located on the right side of the screen. Parts are separated by rarity, the manufacturer and part of the upgrade typeTo fit parts:- Your truck should have a slot for this part; - The part should be from the same manufacturer as the truck and be compatible with the type of part update (body, engine, etc.) Fitting Slot Part costs Silver.You can get slot parts on:- Claiming daily rewards; - Racing in high-stakes races; Completion of tasks; - Opening free boxes every 4 hours.
